

FOR CONVENIENCE OF APPLE GROWERS

Physical Connection Between B. & O. and Cumberland Valley Railroads Made.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Winchester, Va., April 20.—A physical connection made recently by the Baltimore and Ohio and the Cumberland Valley Railroads, two miles north of Winchester, at a point where both roads are only about a mile apart, was officially opened a few days since by the general office officials of both roads. The Baltimore and Ohio special cars were attached to the Cumberland Valley special train at Hagerstown, and after the new connection had been thoroughly inspected and approved, a Baltimore and Ohio crew took the officials of that road on an inspection trip of the Shenandoah division, between Harper's Ferry and Lexington.

The connection was built mainly for the convenience of apple growers and buyers, who have heretofore experienced more or less difficulty in having packed fruit routed as they desired. It will be used also for freight in general. Now that the connection has been opened, the Business Men's Association of Winchester and Frederick County will, it is stated, exert its efforts toward inducing manufacturing enterprises to locate new factories in that vicinity. Several are already under consideration.

When Rev. W. R. Hardesty, formerly of Stafford, but now pastor of Frederick Church, South, goes next week to hold services at Mount Pleasant, he will likely be greeted by a packed house. When he went there last Sunday to preach his first sermon as pastor of the church, he found the building locked and not a person within sight. He waited a while and then drove back to his home here. Since then the new pastor has received many notes and telephone messages of apology upon the part of the "pillars" of the church, and they have made a solemn vow to give "Brother" Hardesty a real old-time Methodist greeting when he comes again to administer unto their spiritual wants and necessities.

The body of Clyde J. Carpenter, a young life insurance agent of an Alexandria company, who died Friday morning in Memorial Hospital after being shot by a negro late Wednesday night in the southern suburbs of Winchester by masked negroes, will not be sent to the home of his father at Pontiac, Mich., until Monday morning, because of the indignities he was not received by the undertaker. Hundreds of people have satisfied their morbid curiosity by going to the undertaker's rooms and viewing the body.

The coroner's jury found itself unable to fix the blame for Carpenter's murder, several negroes who have been in jail for several days have been released, and the witnesses have also been discharged, but the police claim they know that two negroes shot and mortally wounded Carpenter, and that they can be caught whenever needed by the court.

WILL MEET AT JACKSONVILLE.

Annual Convention Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Begins To-day.
Jacksonville, Fla., April 20.—Delegates from practically every State in the Union, and from many parts of Canada and Mexico, are expected to be in attendance at the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which convenes here to-morrow for a six-day session. Matters of general importance to railway engineers will be discussed.

A conference of general chairmen of the brotherhood, at which F. D. Howard, general chairman of the Atlantic Coast Line division, will preside, will occupy the first two days of the convention. On Wednesday and Thursday, inclusive, the general conference of delegates will be in session, with Grand Chief Stone and President Fitch in charge. During these days the International Woman's Auxiliary of the order will also be in session.

Following adjournment Saturday, the delegates will visit Havana and other Cuban points, embarking from Key West. Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of 1,000 delegates for the trip.

FAITH IS ESSENTIAL

Far More Important Than Work, Says Secretary Bryan.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, April 20.—Secretary Bryan addressed a large meeting of Bible students on "Faith" here this afternoon.

This was the second appearance of Mr. Bryan in the role of a Bible class leader, and he was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience composed of members of the local Young Men's Christian Association, the Bible Federation of Washington, and the Presbyterian Young People's Missionary Union.

"Without faith it is impossible to do anything of importance," said Mr. Bryan. "Faith is more important than work, for where there is no faith there is no work. Man must also have faith in his fellowmen if he would accomplish anything. It is better to trust, and sometimes to be disappointed, than to go through the world trusting none."

LOVE AFFAIR WILL BE AIDED IN COURT

August Belmont Fails to Buy Off Son's Chorus Girl Wife.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
New York, April 20.—Mrs. Ethel Lorraine Lindner Belmont, chorus-girl wife of Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, the financier, will begin action for separation Tuesday. Notice of the coming suit having been served upon young Belmont by publication, and the legal time expiring to-morrow, the impulsive love affair will be aired in court, according to Mrs. Belmont to-day.

Mrs. Belmont declared that she had not seen Raymond since her arrival in New York last week, nor did she expect to. She declared that she loved the young man "better than anything else in the world."

"But it is now time that I took action," she added. "I shall sue for support and maintenance. I shall ask for a sum commensurate with my position as the wife of the son of one of New York's richest and most influential men. The court shall hear the entire story. I shall show that I was not a siren luring the youth from his family. He insisted that I loved me, and I knew that I loved him. I married him only after many refusals."

"August Belmont offered to settle the affair by giving me a sum of money. I hesitate to mention the amount. It was pitifully small—not enough to keep my dog in biscuits for a year. It was ridiculous, and I laughed at Mr. Belmont's embezzlement. I am sorry to have to do this, but I would be a sorry spectacle if I allowed Raymond Belmont to make a fool of me. I would not be fair to myself nor my sex. The suit will be brought Tuesday, in all probability."

PLEASE IGNORES ORDER OF COURT

Honors Requisition Papers, and Alleged Swindlers Are Taken to New York.

New York, April 20.—After pursuing them for five months through several States in this country and a part of Canada, central office detectives arrived here to-night from Charleston, S. C., with Frank R. Tarbeaux and Alfred A. Carter, who are accused of having swindled G. M. Jones, of Pittsburgh, out of $20,000, and E. J. Pendleton, of Washington, out of $55,000 by means of fake mining stocks and wire tapping schemes. After the arrest of the men in Charleston on April 13, they were ordered released on a writ of habeas corpus, but the detectives rushed to Governor Blewett, who ignored the court order, and honored extradition papers. The prisoners were then taken across country twenty-five miles in a motor car, and the sheriff of Charleston County in pursuit, seeking to serve the habeas corpus writ.

MACHINE UPSETS, AND MRS. WARNER IS FATALY HURT

King's Highway, where the collision occurred. The four occupants of Levers' car were badly shaken up and sustained severe bruises. Charles Cheeseman, however, was seriously injured. He sustained severe injuries to the head and back, and his spine may be fractured. All the injured were taken to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, and they include: Miss Jennie Turner, Robert Levers, Lydia Levers, his daughter, and Cyril Levers, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheeseman and their four children, Marielli, Rosetti, Norma and Gwendoline.

All of the Cheeseman children were badly hurt, two of them having broken bones and the youngest child, Norma, a baby of a year, is still unconscious. At the hospital the surgeons are still working over Mr. Cheeseman, and they say that he is unquestionably paralyzed, but that they cannot tell whether it is due to a fracture of the spine or from internal injuries.

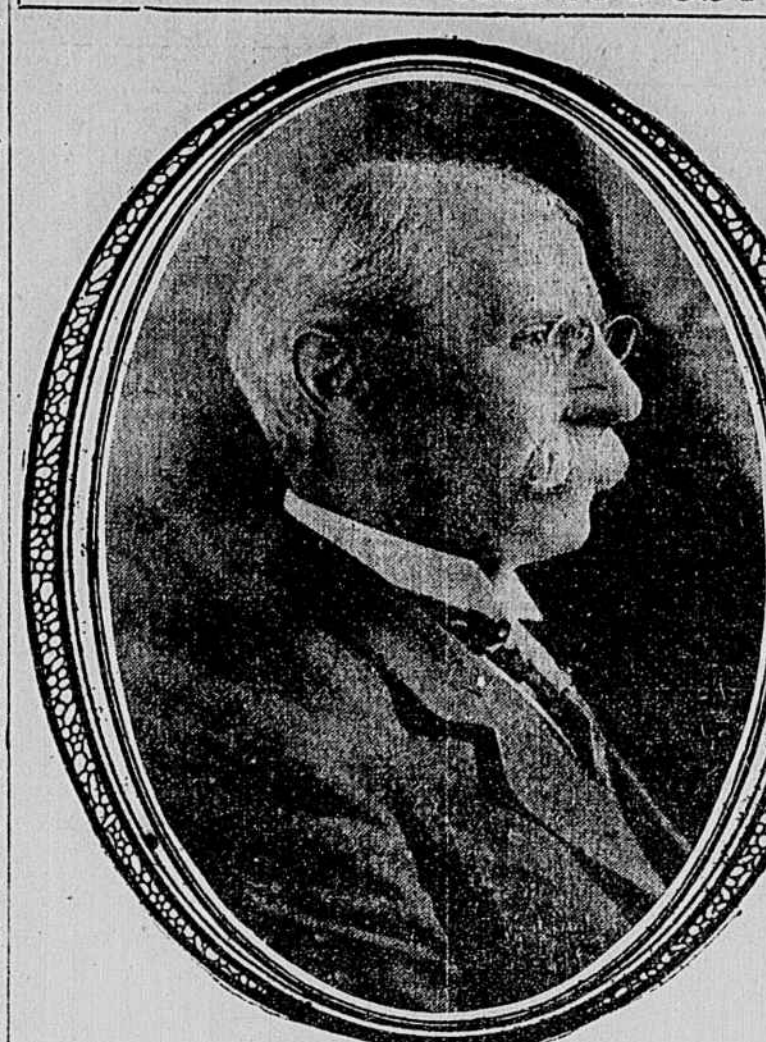

BANDITS PAY PENALTY

They Will Be Executed at Dawn To-day in Paris.

Paris, April 20.—The automobile bandits, Callemine and Souday, will be executed at dawn. It was supposed they would go to the guillotine Tuesday, but the authorities kept their decision secret until the last moment, with a view to preventing any manifestation.

Four men were to have been executed, but Diadome, one of the bandits, sentenced to death by the Paris Court of Assizes on February 27, was pardoned yesterday by President Poincaré. The men were convicted of many murders.

the water. Moreover, bore an excellent reputation, but in the opinion of several brother chauffeurs, he lost his head when he saw the car start down the hill, for they declare that, with a little skill, he might have diverted the course of the machine.

On calling at Mrs. Duncan's villa this afternoon, I found the dancer the picture of despair. She was seated on a sofa in the vast hall which serves her as a rehearsal room.

"It is too terrible," said Mrs. Duncan. "Only two nights ago I was so happy, and now the very persons whom I met then are calling to console with me."

Mrs. Duncan seemed almost as much affected by the death of the nurse as by the loss of her children. In speaking of the woman, she said:

"She was a saint, a second mother to my babies. How did it happen? Who can tell? Perhaps something was wrong with the machinery."

On a tiny bed in the large library the bodies of little Deirdre and Patrick lay side by side, all heaped with beautiful flowers. Close by, upon another bed, lay the body of Annie Sine. Outside of the villa was a crowd of people silently sympathizing with the dancer, while another crowd stood gazing at the spot on the Seine where the accident occurred.

WILSON ATTENDS CHURCH SERVICES

Again Demonstrates Desire to Worship as Inconspicuously as Possible.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, April 20.—President Wilson again demonstrated his desire to worship as inconspicuously as possible here to-day by attending services at the Central Presbyterian Church. It was stated that the chief executive had not as yet decided upon permanent attendance at any local church. His wife and Miss Eleanor Wilson were also present at the services.

New Jerseyites Disappointed.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, April 20.—More than 14,000 fellow-citizens and citizenesses of President Wilson, interested in greeting their illustrious former Governor, left Washington late this afternoon with their mission unfulfilled.

The excursionists came in fourteen special trains from all parts of New Jersey, and immediately upon their arrival swarmed over the White House grounds in an effort to see and shake the hand of the President. White House etiquette, however, forbade such a proceeding on Sunday, and the best greeting accorded them was a nod and a smile from Mr. Wilson as the White House automobile passed on its way to church.

Lawyers Outnumber Other Professions

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, April 20.—According to the official directory of the Sixty-third Congress, which will be given out to-morrow, lawyers continue to outnumber all other professions in Congress. In the new House there are 290 lawyers, and the Senate has seventy-four lawyers out of a total of ninety-six members.

The political make-up of the Senate is officially classified as follows:

Democrats, 51; Republicans, 44; Progressives, 1. Total, 96.

The House is classified as follows: Democrats, 290; Republicans, 127; Progressive Republicans, 7; Progressives, 3; Independent, 1; vacancies, 1. The vacancy will shortly be filled by a Democrat from the Charleston, S. C., district.

RELATIVES DIE BUT SIX HOURS APART

Charles A. Travers, Sixteen, of Del Ray, Expires Soon After Grandfather, A. B. Travers.

Alexandria, Va., April 20.—Six hours after the death of A. B. Travers, a Civil War veteran, yesterday afternoon, his sixteen-year-old grandson, Charles A. Travers, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Travers, in Del Ray, after a long illness. This is the third death to occur in this family within the past two months. The first was two months ago yesterday, when Earl Travers, a four-year-old grandson, was instantly killed in front of his parents' residence, by being run over by an automobile owned by a Washington man.

A. H. Travers was a native of Whitehall, N. Y., and located in Alexandria at the close of the Civil War, having served in the Federal army under General Grant. He was at one time deputy United States collector at Quantico, and at one time deputy collector at this port. He is survived by a wife and one son, A. O. Travers, of Del Ray. He was the father-in-law of John H. Trimmer of this city, at whose home his death occurred.

The funeral of Mr. Travers and his grandson will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mr. Trimmer. Services will be conducted by the Rev. J. R. Strausburg, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church.

Next week will be a busy time for the lawyers of Alexandria, on account of a number of important cases which are scheduled to be heard. To-morrow the Corporation court will resume its sessions in Alexandria city, and on Tuesday a special grand jury has been summoned to consider three criminal indictments. On Wednesday the third trial of Lewis Hoof, former secretary and general manager of the defunct Mercantile-Railway Building and Loan Association, charged with grand larceny, will be commenced. The case will be heard by a jury from Richmond. City Sergeant Robert H. Cox having summoned a venire of twenty-five men from that city. The Circuit Court of Alexandria County opens its April term at Alexandria County Court-house to-morrow morning, and several important cases will be set for trial. On Tuesday Judge Thornton will hear the application for a renewal of the license of the Arlington Brewing Company, which is being contested by a number of residents of the county.

Four members of the city school board and three police commissioners will be elected at a meeting of the City Council Tuesday night, the vacancies having existed for the past year.

Four crusades to carry out ordinances recently passed by the City Council are now being waged by the Alexandria police department. The law requiring the muzzling of dogs is being strictly enforced, and more than fifty arrests have been made within the past two weeks. To-morrow the police will commence to make arrests for violations of the new traffic ordinance, as well as the ordinance which prohibits spitting on the sidewalks. The provisions of the new health law relating to the sale of meats in the city will go into effect to-morrow, and the health officer has called on the police department to aid in its enforcement.

CONVICT'S GOOD FORTUNE

He Succeeds to Title and Estate of Brother in England.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Leavenworth, Kan., April 20.—A telegram was received to-day at the Federal prison announcing that convict Fred Grey, by the death of an elder brother in England, would succeed to the title and a large estate. He will become Lord Frederico Grey and will leave for England to assume his honors on his release from the Federal prison June 16.

Grey was received at the Federal prison last fall from Texas, where he had been convicted for using the mails to defraud.

Dirigible Makes Quick Trip.
Rome, April 20.—A military dirigible left Rome at 5:40 this morning and arrived at Verona at 2:55 P. M. It covered the 225 miles at an average speed of about thirty-two miles an hour.

The dirigible, which is entirely of Italian manufacture, carries two motors of sixty-two-horsepower each, and had benzine for a fifteen hours' journey. In crossing the Apennines it rose more than 3,000 feet.

ATLANTA'S WEEK OF OPERA WILL BE USHERED IN TO-NIGHT
Atlanta, Ga., April 20.—With such distinguished singers as Caruso, Scotti, Earl and other members of the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, singing the principal roles, Atlanta's week of grand opera will be ushered in to-morrow night with the presentation of Puccini's "Manon Lescaut."

A radical departure has been made in the preparation of this year's program, it having been decided to eliminate German opera entirely. Italian compositions predominate. Verdi's "La Traviata," Ponchielli's "La Gioconda," Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor," and Puccini's "Tosca" being those selected.

In addition, Darnowsky's "Cyrano" will be sung in English and Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann," in French, there will be seven performances in all.

Frost Is Promised by Weather Bureau

Washington April 20.—Unseasonably cold weather with frosts in the Eastern States and moderately warm weather throughout the Gulf States, the Great Central Valleys and the Rocky Mountain region and the Plains States will open the coming week. The Weather Bureau announced to-day in its weekly forecast.

"Fair weather will prevail the next several days in the Eastern and Southern States, while there will be unsettled weather, with local rains, the greater part of the week in the Upper Mississippi Valley, the region of the Great Lakes and the Northwestern States," said the bulletin. "A change to warmer weather will overspread the Eastern States, the Lake region and the Ohio Valley Tuesday and Wednesday. The next storm of importance will appear in the Far West Tuesday or Wednesday, move eastward and overspread the Great Central Valleys Thursday or Friday, the Eastern States near the end of the week. This disturbance will be preceded by a general rise in temperature, be attended by showers and thunderstorms, and be followed by considerably colder weather, which will overspread the Northwestern States Thursday and Friday."

labor at home and abroad; that many articles now paying very low rates of duty have been put on the free list, while the comparative cost of production here and abroad is such that it will be impossible for business to continue without bringing down our scale of wages to the level of the rates paid abroad. In many cases articles are put on the free list, while a protective duty is laid down upon the material used in their manufacture."

Claim Burden Is Greater.
Attacking the ad valorem system, the report says it imposes a greater tax when prices are high and competition not so keen and a lesser tax when prices are low and competition is keen, and much more injurious to the American producer, and "that it bears more heavily on the honest importer and favors the man who, by perjury and fraud, undervalues his goods and escapes his fair share of taxation."

The elimination from the Democratic bill of the maximum and minimum feature of the present law is deplored by the Republicans, who claim that through this provision great tariff concessions and regulations were procured and much added to the export trade of the country.

Defending the existing Payne-Aldrich tariff, the minority asserts that in the last four years "the people of the country have been more prosperous than ever before in our history." Figures are presented to show that under the Payne-Aldrich tariff the average ad valorem rate on all imports in 1912 was 18.58 per cent lower than during any year since 1850, except from 1857 to 1860.

AS KISSER, ARVUS WINS FIRST PLACE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

New York, April 20.—If Morton S. Arvus desires to enter a kissing Marathon, Justice Gavegan will, no doubt, back him against all comers for the first prize and blue ribbon. According to the story Justice Gavegan listened to in his court, Thomas Arvus is the champion "smacker" of the Bronx and Harlem, with just claims to the finals in Manhattan.

David Lockwood, an engineer of this city, interrupted an exhibition of Arvus's osculatory genius when he visited Mrs. Lockwood at her apartment rather unexpectedly some weeks ago, and he was so surprised he immediately began suit for divorce.

"I didn't see any harm," explained Mrs. Lockwood to-day; "Mr. Arvus was so sociable and nice—and he kissed us all."

It developed that the night in question was the first time Arvus had met Mrs. Lockwood, but it seems the influence of his middle name (Smack) was much. He kissed the young wife—and her friends—on the cheek, on the street and in her apartment, when the husband interrupted. Mrs. Lockwood's only objection was that Arvus was so sociable and so fair—a divided kiss—equally between her and her two friends, Miss Maude Parmstead and Mrs. Evelyn Maybes.

Justice Gavegan signed the decree, allowed the custody of his daughter to Lockwood and hurried the kissing bunch from his court.

Mrs. Lockwood and Arvus left, arm-in-arm, and as they passed the door they were seen to smile.

TAFT TO ADDRESS BAR ASSOCIATION

Chief Justice White and Lord High Chancellor of England Also on Program.

Washington, April 20.—Former President Taft has accepted an invitation to read a paper on a subject to be announced later at the annual meeting of the American Bar Association at Montreal, in September. Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court of the United States, will preside at the session of the association, and Viscount Haldane, the Lord High Chancellor of England, will make the annual address. Chief Justice White, the highest officer of American courts, will introduce Viscount Haldane, who occupies a similar position in England. Senator Elihu Root, of New York, will preside at the annual banquet, September 3.

These features of the association's meeting were announced here to-day after a conference first with President Frank R. Kellogg, Secretary George Whitehead and Treasurer Frederick Wadhams.

FIRE IN CAMBRIDGE

Five Houses, Two Stores and Theatre Destroyed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Cambridge, Md., April 20.—Five houses, two stores and a moving picture show were destroyed by fire early to-day. A high wind made the work of the firemen extra difficult, and the flames were not subdued until six hours. There were several narrow escapes, one woman reaching safety by jumping to a telegraph pole.

"Honest John's" Inn Destroyed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Greenwich, Conn., April 20.—"Honest John's" Kelly's Inn, at Rye Beach, Conn., scene of the conference of the American Bar Association, was destroyed by fire to-day. The restor was threatened for several hours, on account of the high wind, but was saved from nearby places confined the destruction to Kelly's place.

VANDERBILTS WILL THROUGH NEWPORT

Announcement of Plans Shows That Real Old-Fashioned Season Is in Prospect.

Newport, R. I., April 20.—Newport will have a real old-fashioned "Vanderbilt season," as Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and the former's mother, Mrs. Vanderbilt, will be at the "Breakers." Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt and Commodore and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt at their cottage, with Colonel and Mrs. George Vanderbilt as their guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt at their summer home.

Mrs. French Vanderbilt is already here for the summer with her son, William.

When Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt bring their baby, Alfred, Jr., to Oakland Farm, the baby will have a brand-new day and night nursery built for his especial benefit in the beautiful farm-houses.

Joseph Palmer Dead.

Washington, April 20.—Joseph Palmer, the oldest employee of the National Museum, and who made the death mask of President Lincoln that has been used in most of the portraits of the martyred President, died yesterday at his home in Rosslyn, Va., near here.
